The Oxford University-based jazz a cappella group, The Oxford Gargoyles, have just announced their official dates (20 March – 2 April 2014) for their debut tour to Hong Kong and Macau. The group will be singing at concert halls, schools, music bars, outdoor areas, shopping malls, private clubs, and more.

The Gargoyles are an internationally renowned jazz a cappella ensemble from Oxford, UK. Their stellar mix of black-tie class, charm, and impeccable musicality delights audiences far and wide. The group's repertoire includes lovely jazz standards, grooving funk tunes, and an occasional pop rendition. This quintessentially British group promises to be unforgettable. Get your tickets before they sell out!

“Everything about this show was perfect...It was a masterclass in how to use the human voice.”
—Fresh Air

“Delectably light-voiced, well blended style...Charm personified.”
—Richard Morrison, The Times

“The Gargoyles craft their a cappella sets like the best consort groups craft Bach; with meticulous attention to detail and an overwhelming love for their art.”
—Greg Beardsell, Musical Director of the Irish Youth Choir
